CHALLENGE

One of the first Chinese brands to explore the overseas market successfully, Tsingtao Brewery has a rich heritage as an international corporation with global influence. Although the organization is proud of its history, its leaders understand the need to innovate to meet future needs in a challenging marketplace.

As part of an ongoing effort to improve product quality, service and management, and create more value for consumers, Tsingtao Brewery launched an initiative to upgrade its core business operations and support an intelligent new retail model. Digital transformation of its IT infrastructure is a cornerstone of the strategy, and Tsingtao Brewery needed an agile, scalable data center solution that would meet its strict technical and operational standards.

SOLUTION

In terms of IT infrastructure, Tsingtao Brewery has set up strict technical and operational standards for the construction and operation of data center. The Nutanix Enterprise Cloud Solution featured with high usability, simple interface and safety & security reassuring, offering extraordinary worry-free experience far beyond expectations, has placed a concrete foundation for Tsingtao Brewery's digital transformation.

CUSTOMER OUTCOME

The Nutanix Enterprise Cloud Solution provides Tsingtao Brewery a powerful combination of high usability, simple interface, and robust security. Delivering a worry-free experience that has exceeded expectations, the solution establishes a concrete foundation for the company's digital transformation. With its flexible HCI solution featuring the Nutanix AHV hypervisor, Tsingtao Brewery can rapidly extend its IT infrastructure as needed, while maintaining outstanding performance. The solution makes it easy to expand computing and storage resources simply by adding nodes, to boost performance and capabilities. Business operations remain smooth and stable when the brewery needs to grow or adjust processes to meet new needs.

Since its deployment, the Nutanix HCI has delivered consistent reliability, enabling the brewery to meet stringent manufacturing SLA requirements, while providing robust performance and data security.

The solution has improved the efficiency of the brewery's IT organization as well, providing worry-free daily operations and streamlined maintenance capabilities. The time spent on IT operation and maintenance has been largely reduced, freeing up more resources to focus on business research and innovation.

NEXT STEPS

Nutanix has become an integral part of Tsingtao Brewery's digitalization endeavors. Tsingtao Brewery will continue to build on its industrial digital transformation initiative, working closely with Nutanix to create new value of this century-old brand for customers at home and abroad.
